DEATHWISH

C - SET

The Coffee-Set, shortly C-Set, consists of handmade coffee cups, espresso cups, drinking vessels and saucers, all of them can be combined individually. External blemishes are playfully turned into the contrary. Overlapping rims turn into handles, merging colours and paint splatters turn into a unique pattern. Even a most accidental combination of vessels, patterns and colours appears like a conscious composition. Coincidence plays a mayor role throughout the manufacturing process, giving the C-Set its extraordinary aesthetics.

WOODRAW

From an early age tactile experience is an indispensable part of our sensual perception. The Woodraw collection grew out of the belief that the sense of touch is just as important as the sense of sight. All objects are cut with chainsaw, moulded and then poured into porcelain. The wood grain and traces of the sculptors' intuitive process appear through the porcelain, determining its aesthetics and feel.

TRACES

From an early age tactile experience is an indispensable part of our sensual perception. The Traces collection grew out of the belief that the sense of touch is just as important as the sense of sight. All objects are cut from wood by hand, moulded and then poured into black porcelain. The wood grain and traces of the sculptors' intuitive process appear through the porcelain, determining its aesthetics and feel.

FLOURBAG

The Flourbag plays with proportions. It is clothing, piece of jewelry and bag at the same time. Used flour bags with fitted, handprinted leather shoulder straps make the Flourbag an extravagant One of a Kind. The Flourbag is available in long or short.

PARCELBAG

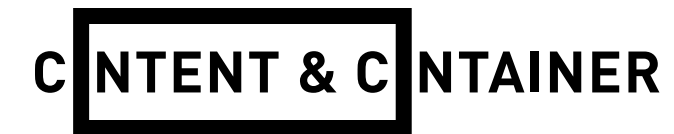

In times of online trading parcels get a very special significance. Most various goods are shipped all over the globe, to finally arrive at their destination. The anticipation of the arrival may even exceed the joy over the unwrapped product. The Parcelbag maintains this state of anticipation with the easy attitude of a globetrotter.

In combination with the colour of the calf leather and the handprinted leather handles giving the aesthetic appeal of adhesive tape, the strongly abstracted form of the bag turns the Parcelbag formally into a parcel.

The Parcelbag is available as Weekender, Handbag and Clutch.
